COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT THE NORMAL.

The Baccalaureate Sermon.

Junior Entertainment — Field Sports—Class Day Exercises.

COMMENCEMENT DAY.

The Commencement exercises of 1895 will go into the history of the Normal, as the most largely attended, and withal, perhaps the best in the history of the school.

The exercises proper began Sunday June 23, at 3 p. m., when the Baccalaureate sermon was delivered to the graduating class. The class is the largest in all the history of Normal schools in Pennsylvania, numbering one hundred and forty six members. The sermon was preached by Rev. Howard Wilbur Ennis of the Western Presbyterian church of Washington D. C.

It was in many respects the most helpful sermon our students have had for many years. Finding his text in 2nd Timothy 2:15, "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." He chose to take for his theme: The Dynamics of youth. The Reverend gentleman by his courteous manner, and frank openheartedness won the confidence and esteem of all, the sermon because of its plain, practical, pointed truths, will be remembered long.

MONDAY EVENING.

Monday evening was Junior night, and right royally did these Seniors of '96, entertain the fully fifteen hundred people who had assembled in the great Auditorium to hear and enjoy their exercises. Well, they heard and they did enjoy. The audience heard because they were interested, and who could help being interested when every one did so well; and they enjoyed the evening's performances because there was something to enjoy.

Every character in the farces was as well taken as it seems possible for amateur to do.

The music on this occasion as furnished by the Normal School orchestra, under the splendid leadership of Miss Rosa Haas, ably assisted by Miss Ella Stump, was most charming. Every number was rendered as though that was the best of them all.

Following is the program:

FIELD SPORTS.

The Athletic contests appointed for Monday afternoon were postponed on account of the rain, until Tuesday Morning.

Although this was the first year that any feature of this kind was ever announced, the interest manifested was intense as shown in the hundreds and hundreds of people who were upon the Athletic field.

Personal comment here is impossible. We give of what the program consisted and the winners of prizes as far as possible before going to press.

The program consisted of Running High Jump, Pole Vault, 100 Yard Dash, Putting 16 lb. Shot, Running Broad Jump, Mile Run, Dumb Bell Drill of 400 students, Indian Clubs.

PRIZES.

In each athletic event a prize was awarded the winner. In addition to these two prizes were awarded for all around work. In each event first place counted the winner 5 points, second place 3 points, and third place 1 point. The persons scoring the two highest totals throughout the contest were awarded First and Second general prizes. Through the kindness of Mr. J. G. Wells and Mr. Geo. S. Robbins, the athletic association is able to offer the following prizes: First prize, for all around work, a silver cup. Second prize for all around work, a gold mounted Paul E. Wirt fountain pen. For winner of each event a prize in gold.

The following concert program was furnished by the Bloomsburg Cornet Band, Prof. Turner, leader:

Overture—Poet and Peasant, ... Van Suppe
Lancers—University . . . . . Meyrelles
Intermezzo—"Love's Drram" . . . . . Czibulka
March—"Old Homestead" . . . . Seltzer
Fantasia—Tone Pictures North and South . . . . . Bendix

In the Running High Jump, the victors were George Norman at five feet one inch, Smethers at four eleven, and third Worthington at four ten.

In the Pole Vault, the victors were Alden Williams first clearing the pole at the great height of eight feet ten, and Nagle second at seven feet and Smethers at six feet seven.

In the 100 yard dash, twenty three men entered, four heats were run with the following record: Norman first in eleven and one-fifth seconds, Nagle second and Sheivelhood third.

The next number was putting the 16 lb. shot. Here were many sharp and close contests. Laubach led off with twenty-eight feet four, with Williams second, twenty-seven feet one.

CLASS DAY.

Tuesday was set apart as Class Day, and the class of '93 showed a great return of members to receive their Masters Degree, having taught the required two years, These held their reunion exercises in the Auditorium in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

At 8 p. m. the outgoing class of '95 held their exercises.

A large audience greeted them and their pleasing programme was rendered without a flaw. Some of the members in the programme were, to say the least, decidedly humorous.

The Class Statistics had some wonderful revelations, as set down in cold figures. The Class Will, well, the originator of this outdid himself in some of his clauses in which he disposed of the various paraphernalia, not to speak of the bonded indebtedness of the class.

COMMENCEMENT DAY.

Commencement day proper was one long to be remembered.

The program in point of orations and essays, was never better, and reflects great credit not only upon the young people who delivered them so earnestly, but as well upon those of the faculty who had charge of the writing of these, and of their preparation for final delivery or presentation.

We give herewith the program entire:

Prayer . . . . . Rev. G. E. Weeks

. . . . . B. S. N. S. Orchestra.

Conferring of Degrees . . . Class of '95.
Conferring of 2d Degrees . Class of '93.

And thus ended the Commencement proper of 1895, and a royally good one it was.

We say good because every number of the week passed off with the fullest success, good because of the renewing of many friendships of former days, good because of the encouraging prospects held in promise for the coming year, and good because our Normal school is coming to be recognized throughout the entire state as standing in the very fore front of the educational line—foremost in progressive teaching and among the very leaders in the development of honest Christian characters.

ALUMNI MEETING AND DINNER.

Immedately after the close of the exercises the Alumni Association met in the Auditorium, and transacted some business, elected officers for next year and discussed matters pertaining to the future of Normal Schools. At two o'clock the dining hall was thrown open and an excellent collation was partaken of by a large number of people. At the close, a feast of reason followed, with G. J. Clark Esq., as toastmaster. His theme was "The day we love." J. C. Brown, of the trustees' committee on buildings and grounds, spoke on "Building buildings," and Miss Mame Detwiler '95 responded for her class. Dr. Welsh discussed "Conditions confronting the Normal School," and the speech making ended with the response of R. R. Little Esq., to "Our Guardians." It was late in the afternoon when the company arose, and as they departed from the dining hall, the commencement exercises of 1895 were a thing of the past.

BITTEN BY A SNAKE.

A WOMAN ATTACKED BY A RATTLER THAT WAS STEALING A CHICKEN.

Mrs. Henry P. Wagner, of Shickshinny, heard her chickens making a good deal of noise, and went to the lower end of the garden to learn the cause. She saw down near the fence what she supposed was a chicken being dragged away by a cat, and hurrying to the spot she seized the fowl to rescue it. She had hardly done so when the chicken was released and she felt a stinging pain in the palm of her left hand and saw that the wound had been inflicted by a large snake, which was preparing to strike her again.

Mrs. Wagner screamed and assistance promptly arrived and the snake was killed. Mrs Wagner was helped to the house and Dr. McKeage called. The hand and arm swelled rapidly and she became deathly sick. The physicians express the opinion that she will recover. The snake measured twenty-eight inches in length and after being killed was taken to Hollopeter's drug store, where it was put in alcohol for preservation.

List of Events.

The following is a list of the events of the bicycle races to be held at Berwick, Saturday, June 29th: 15 mile road, value of prize $90; 1 mile novice, value of prize $20; 1 mile club, $25; ½ mile open, $70; 1 mile Columbia county championship, $45; 1 mile open, $75; ½ mile, boys under 15 years of age, $13.50; 2 mile handicap, $90. Sid Black, the world's champion trick rider, will appear twice between the races on his safety, and an effort will be made by a prominent rider to lower the track record, 2:22 horse time.

A Postoffice Clerk Arrested.

Peter McCann, a substitute clerk at the Philadelphia postoffice, was locked up at police headquarters last Friday evening by Postal Inspector Holden on the charge of stealing a letter addressed to James Wardel, of Washington, which contained $3.50. It is alleged that the money was found on the accused when arrested. McCann hails from Danville, Pa., and was appointed on May 8, 1894.

On Tuesday morning the curb stone market opened for the season. There were eight wagons.

Rather bewildering nowadays, to find out from the newspapers the best store in which to buy your clothes. Modesty is not a conspicuous feature of modern advertisements, and anyone who swallows gullibly all thats said in some of them is in a fair way to be bamboozled. Seemingly, perhaps, we're no more modest than other folks. Yet, knowing how excellent our clothing is and what a good round sum people save by dealing with us, we're often tempted to blow our horn a good deal louder than we do.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

THE NEW YORK PRESS ASSOCIATION OUTING.

Editors on a Lark at Syracuse, Albany, Saratoga and Lake George—Yet They Will Find Time for Business—How an Editorial Convention is Run.

Special Albany Letter.

The New York Press Association will hold its annual excursion and convention this year on June 24th to 29th. The members of the association will rendezvous at the Yates House, Syracuse, on Monday, June 24, where a banquet will be given in the evening, to which all the members of the association are invited. Those entitled to the privileges of the association who are acquainted with the brand of hospitality dispensed in Syracuse, will make a special effort to be present at the opening of the convention; those who are not may possibly stay away from the opening exercises and regret it forever afterward.

Editors are naturally sociable fellows. They are also by force of necessity very active business men. These two somewhat contrary traits of character probably account for the origin of the New York State Editorial Association, now in the thirty-ninth year of its existence, which unites in its membership as much shrewd business talent and capacity for social enjoyment as exists in any other corporate body in the civilized world. These words are not idly written, but are the result of a quiet observation extending through nearly twenty years of the doings of the State editors at their annual outing.

After the preliminary exercises and banquet at Syracuse, the editors will proceed to Albany on a special train over the New York Central road, where an informal reception by Gov. Morton will be tendered them, followed by luncheon. They will not linger long in Albany, however. This is possibly because even Albanians recognize that Saratoga is the social and political capital of the State during the hot season. The journey of the 25th instant will therefore be continued to Saratoga, on a special train over the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, and headquarters will be established at the Grand Union Hotel, where a ball will be given in the evening in honor of the wives and daughters of the assembled editors, to which the elite of Saratoga society is invited.

On Wednesday morning, June 26, the party will proceed to Lake George, where a three-days' convention will be held in the Court House. While at Lake George the association will be the guests of the Horicon Improvement Company, at the Lake House.

The public, interested in all kinds of news, will be interested in knowing just what an editorial convention is like. So far we have had only the preliminaries—the "entrees" to the feast, as it were. An editorial convention of the genuine New York type is a mingled round of sage practical business and social festivity. The editors meet to exchange ideas, to brush up on the latest points affecting their business, and to enjoy themselves in the company of their wives, daughters and friends.

The convention always opens with an address by the President, and this year that duty will be performed by Mr. John A. Sleicher, a gentleman well-known to the profession both in the State and country at large. Mr. Sleicher was recently editor of the New York Mail and Express, and is at present conducting that somewhat anamolous publication known as the New York Record, which it is presumed he does upon a thoroughly reform basis. Either because or regardless of his politics (or perhaps both) Mr. Sleicher is very popular with newspaper men, and his address will be a feature of the convention.

There will follow business communications and three minute papers on practical topics by the brightest men of the State press. Three minute papers! Editors are consistent fellows, and know how to blue-pencil their own lucubrations. The three minute papers are a great feature of the convention, as are also the short discussions that follow.

Then the committees report, and a tyro would be astonished to learn how many and how profound a lot of committees an editorial convention can make use of. Addresses on various subjects by editors whose ideas become uncontrollable are permissible at almost any stage of the proceedings, and oftentimes some of the best things of the convention come out in a spontaneous way. The election of officers for the next year follows.

Then follow resolutions and prize papers, and general leave takings. But, hold—somewhere in the proceedings comes in the report of the secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. O. Bunnell, a man so peculiarly modest and retiring that he has been kept in his present position from time immemorial as an example of what an editor may become under a system of special culture. Mr. Bunnell is the patriarch if not the father of the New York Press Association, and he is at present also President of the National Press Association. Whether he invented press associations or was invented by the first association of the kind, is a question analogous to that other famous inquiry, "Which—the Lady or the Tiger?" He has now reached the summit of his ambition and no editor can expect to gain more honor among his brethren, but as Secretary of the New York Press Association and a missionary in the cause of editorial relaxation his career has still a bright and promising future before it.

One might be excused for thinking that the programme here briefly outlined would readily occupy all the spare time that the sojourn at Lake George could afford. Not so—quite the contrary. There will be royal entertainment and royal good fellowship. The Horicon Company has a programme of excursions, concerts, dancing, banquets, etc., that opens to the assembled guests the possibilities of excessive epicurean enjoyment, but there is no danger of over-indulgence. Editors always behave themselves—especially as each one carries a quill behind his ear and a bottle of ink in his pistol pocket, and always has a weather eye on the doings of his "esteemed contemporaries." The most dangerous place in the world for any "cutting up" is an editorial convention.

There is every reason to believe that the thirty-ninth annual convention of the New York State Press Association will be the most notable in its history.

G. H. B.

Uncleanliness is Dangerous.

The reason why the idea of uncleanliness was associated with the idea of dangerousness was, in my opinion, because uncleanness was thought to be the enemy of the gods, and the gods can not be where any uncleanness exists. The gods are clean and pure, and those who are not clean and pure cannot but forfeit the protection of the gods. Those who are not protected by the gods can easily be attacked and injured by the evil and unclean spirits, and hence the idea of danger came to be associated with the idea of uncleanness. This is perhaps made plainer by some concrete case. When I was a boy, the custom of eating beef began to spread. As blood was regarded as unclean, and also as Japan had been a strong agricultural country, there was a very deep-rooted disinclination to eat beef. In this, of course, one has also to recognize the influence of the vegetarian principle of Buddhism. But to anybody who had ever tasted beef, it was so delicious that he could hardly control his natural appetite by his religious scruple. My father was one of those who knew its taste, and so now and then we used to treat ourselves to beef. But where did we eat it? We did not eat it inside of the house. We cooked and ate it in the open air, and in cooking and in eating we did not use the ordinary utensils but used the special ones kept for the purpose. Why all these things? Because beef was unclean, and we did not like to spread this uncleanness into our house wherein the "gods-shelf" is kept, and into our ordinary utensils which might be used in making offerings to the gods. The day when we ate beef my father did not offer lights to the gods nor say evening prayers to them, as he did usually, for he knew he was unclean and could not approach the gods. Then my mother, who did not and could not eat beef till very recently, did these things; and I, who used to partake of the new dainty dish, often went to bed feeling as if I was unclean and subject to dangers.—N. Kishimoto, in the Popular Science Monthly.

Indian Doctoring.

The Indian pharmacopoeia comprised thoroughwort, spurge and Indian hemp, used as emetics; the bark of the horsechestnut and butternut, used as cathartics. They were also acquainted with many poisons, most of which were used on their weapons. For asthma, they employed tobacco and sassafras; for coughs, slippery elm; for dropsy the wild gooseberry; for wounds, powdered puff balls. They treated boils with onion poultices.

"Does your baby ever cry?" "Cry? No," said the Anglomaniac: "he only Wales."—Indianapolis Journal.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

THE VACANT PLACE IN THE CABINET.

Gossip Regarding Secretary Gresham's Successor—Mr. Olney's Position—An Interesting Possibility—Our Relations With Japan and Russia.

Special Washington Letter.

The present probabilities in regard to a successor to Secretary Gresham all point to Attorney-General Olney as the coming man. The rumors connecting ex-Secretary Whitney's name with the office were soon settled. Mr. Whitney will not be Secretary of State simply because under no circumstances could he be induced to accept the position. It needs no great political wit to perceive that neither a busy nor an ambitious man could afford to accept the position at the present time. The foreign policy of the Administration can be better carried out by a member of the present cabinet than by a new-comer. Mr. Olney's ability as a lawyer, and his thorough sympathy with the President point to him as the man most likely to succeed Mr. Gresham.

If Olney succeeds Gresham, the vacancy in the office of Attorney-General creates an interesting possibility. Mr. Olney has been much berated in certain quarters because he has held the anti-trust law to be unconstitutional, and has declined to institute prosecutions under it against various corporations accused on popular rumor of having violated its provisions. The decision of the Supreme Court on the income tax feature of the Wilson tariff bill has convinced many shrewd observers that Olney has had a pretty clear idea of the legal possibilities of prosecutions against men whose principal crime seems to be their ability to form money-making combinations. There is no doubt that there will be strong influences brought to bear to secure a change of policy in the Attorney-General's office, but it is believed that President Cleveland fully approves of the conservative policy that has been approved, and will not appoint a man out of harmony with the settled policy of the Administration.

The breaking out of war between Japan and Formosa is attracting no little attention in diplomatic circles. The Japanese Government has shown no hesitation in taking advantage of all its rights under the recent treaty of peace with China. It is believed here that the Russian Government has stirred up the opposition in Formosa to the Japanese occupation. There is a sentiment among well-informed observers that Russia and Japan have now become natural rivals for the control of affairs in Eastern Asia, and that sooner or later they must come in conflict.

The Eastern war has resulted in placing the United States Government in rather a peculiar position. We have always enjoyed exceptionally pleasant relations with the Russian autocracy. We have also cultivated the most amiable relations with Japan, and the attitude of the Mikado's Government towards us is at present one of exceptional friendliness. Russia has always looked upon us as a possible rival and enemy to Great Britain under certain circumstances, while Japan regards us as the foremost of civilized nations and her tutor and mentor in the art of exchanging barbarism for civilization. The Japanese are a singularly diplomatic people. In the little game of diplomacy now going on, the Japanese are well represented at Washington. No representative of a foreign government is quite so thoroughly Americanized as the Japanese minister, Mr. Shinichiro Kurino is no ordinary man, and he is a fine representative of the dominant Mongul type. He has given in his views a little evidence of what may prove the weakness of Japan, viz., a purpose to set up oriental power in the East against occidental civilization. Should the vast population of the Mongul nations catch the wonderful spirit and courage of the Japanese, there is no doubt that there would result again that contest for supremacy between Europe and Asia which forms one of the bloodiest and most romantic chapters of the history of the Middle Ages. It is hardly possible, however. The dominant civilization of the East is likely to be confined for many cenuries to the Japanese islands, unless a conflict should be provoked that would result in the permanent crippling of Japan as a free and independent nation. OUR CHICAGO LETTER.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND ON THE SILVER QUESTION.

A Curious Ecclesiastical Expression on the Subject—Project for Beautifying the Lake Front—A New "White City" to be Built.

Special Chicago Letter.

The hotbed of the free silver movement has experienced an undoubted chill during the past week. This has been due to several reasons, but more particularly to the visit of Archbishop Ireland here, and his open expression of opposition to the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

Archbishop Ireland is popularly supposed to be a Republican. His diocese is the granary of the United States. Minnesota, where he hails from, is overwhelmingly Republican. He was reared there, and his great eminence has been won in St. Paul. He is in touch with all of the prominent men of both parties in his State as well as at Washington. There is probably not a public man in Minnesota more in harmony with all classes of people of that State than the archbishop. Among those of his own faith, he is regarded as particularly the friend of the common people and the working classes, and his influence is so large that politicians can scarcely fail to give due heed to his utterances.

The archbishop was asked what might prevent the tide of prosperity, evidently now just setting in, from reaching its greatest height, and in his reply to the question he fully defined his position on the silver question. The answer will be received with interest and authority all over the country. It is the voice of the first archbishop in the United States, as every western man believes, and certainly one of the broadest thinkers of the nation. He said:

"The present silver agitation might check the period of prosperity which it seems about setting in for us. I speak advsedly, after study and reflection, and feeling that I may be criticised for what I say. But it is the truth, and what does it matter whether I say it now or later?

"Without entering into the merits of the difficult and intricate questions involved in a discussion of the silver phase or craze, I would say that, so long as there is no international agreement between the great governments of the world—the commercial nations—an attempt on the part of the United States to return to free coinage of silver would be fatal to our business prosperity.

"The United States is largely a borrowing nation. A new country, undeveloped, is necessarily a borrower of the older nations, and that must positively be taken into consideration when we lightly speak of changing the form of our financial basis. It is out of the question that we by ourselves can create a silver basis to be accepted by the balance of the world, willy nilly. We are an integral part of the general commercial world extending over every continent, and what we propose or what is proposed by those who favor silver is only feasible on the supposition that the whole commercial world agrees with us to accept a bimetallic standard.

"What we borrow we must receive from abroad, and the foreign capitalists will not invest in our millions of securities if they are to be paid back for their advances in silver when they can buy the bullion of that metal at 60 cents. They simply will not do it, and it is an absurd folly to imagine that we can compel them to do so. I have said that we are necessarily one part of the general commercial world, and whether we like it or not we must harmonize with the other parts of that world, far outnumbering us, and if we do not, we alone must bear the consequences. We can only hope to maintain our prosperity by maintaining with them a cordial and honorable entente. This to me is the simplest phase of the silver question. It is the easiest way of considering what we should and should not do. The way is very plain and clear. We are in no position to stand aloof nor to restore confidence in our business institutions except by agreeing as we have in the past as to our financial basis in the marts of the world, where we meet all that is in competition with us and all which will positively refuse to accept our proposed silver basis as that of the whole world. I can not see how there can be any question of the fact involved in my statement of the position of that large commercial world toward us from whom we must borrow money if we desire to advance and to attain the eminence, which it appears we should have, with wisdom on the part of our rulers and prudence in the political action of our people."

Chicago sits dreaming at once of glories past and of glories to come. The artistic impulse that created the out of what seems to have been the mere mist of a glorious vision.

Plans for the rehabilitation of the lake front into a scene of incomparable beauty are already on file in the office of D. H. Burnham, the World's great World's Fair is not dead, and it is probable that out of the ashes of the now desolate lake front will arise a permanent series of structures only inferior to the great "White City" itself. It is the dream of every loyal denizen of the city to make a reality

Fred Law Olmsted Landscape Architect.

Fair builder. What the exposition was to Jackson Park these plans are to the lake front. It will take millions of dollars and years of effort to carry them out, but it is probable that Chicago will be equal to the effort.

The study provides for five large buildings. In the centre of the park, facing Congress street, there is provision for a permanent museum, the central portion of which is 320 feet by 512 feet, with four wings, 142 by 320 feet each. To the south a building is planned suitable for the Crerar Library, and in a corresponding location north is designed a building for use as a music hall. At the extreme south end is provided a permanent exposition building, and at the extreme north end a massive armory. Two marked features of the scheme are splendid parade grounds, one at the north and one at the south end of the park. These grounds are 480 by 880 feet. These features stand out prominently, but the landscape effects have been worked out in detail with much care, and Frederick Law Olmsted, the landscape architect, has passed favorably upon the designs. A roadway sixty feet wide runs about the park, and a large fountain is designed to stand on the lake shore east of the museum building. The Macmonnies fountain is suggested for this location. Provision is made in proper places for appropriate statuary. The plan involves the use of the space nearly one mile long north and south, and extending eastward into the lake 1,500 feet. It is proposed to grade up the present park twelve or fourteen feet at the Illinois Central tracks, and cross them with viaducts.

Mr. Burnham is giving his time and effort to this plan in a pure spirit of enterprise, and he is backed by many of the most prominent men of the city. The Illinois Central Railroad will also lend material assistance. The prospects at present are very favorable for the success of what may prove to be the grandest scheme of city embellishment ever carried into effect.

WILL S. COOKE.

Settling Political Problems.

The problems of government are questions of right and wrong, they can be settled only in one way. They must be settled right. Whatever is settled wrong comes up for settlement again, and this when we least expect it. It comes up under harder conditions, and compound interest is charged on every wrong decision. The slavery question, you remember, was settled over and over and over again by each generation of compromisers. When they led John Brown to the scaffold his last words were: "You had better—all you people at the South prepare yourselves for a settlement of this question, that must come up for settlement again sooner than you are prepared for it. You may dispose of me now very easily," he said; "I am nearly disposed of now; but this question is still to be settled—this negro question, I mean; the end of that is not yet."

This, John Brown said, and they settled the problem for the time by hanging him. But the question rose again. It was never settled until at last it was "blown hellward from the cannon's mouth." Then it was found that for every drop of negro blood drawn by the lash, a thousand drops of Saxon blood had been drawn by the sword.—David Starr Jordan in Popular Science Monthly.

The Latest.

A woman well known among society people recently astonished her friends by appearing in public wearing three solid gold rings on the third finger of her right hand. The bands of gold fairly covered the joint between the knuckles. So much curiosity was aroused that one of her friends finally asked her why she wore the rings in the way she did. "Oh," she replied, "that is the very latest Paris fashion. I got it direct from a dear friend of mine who lives there. You see, the first ring was given me by my first husband, who died of yellow fever. I wear that in memory of him. The next one I wear in joyful remembrance of the fact that I got a divorce from my second husband; and the third reminds me that I am married again, and getting to be an old woman," she concluded.

Estimated His Value.

Some time ago the Prince of Wales visited a factory where a great number of men were employed. The prince asked one of the workmen, "What wages do you receive here?" "Well," replied the honest workman, scratching his head and partially lifting his cap with the same hand, "that depends on what they is. A chap like you would get about eighteen bob a week."

William Nye.

Bill Nye is a man of very sober demeanor, and rarely cracks jokes outside of newspaper columns. He has been known, however, to play a practical joke on a friend. When Lieut. Greeley started on his expedition to the North Pole, Nye gave him a sealed box that was not to be opened until he had reached his farthest point north. It contained axle grease for the pole.

WOMAN AND HER WAYS.

Queen Victoria has signed the bill making full woman suffrage in South Australia an accomplished fact.

Susan B. Anthony has announced that she will soon retire from the leadership of the woman's movement.

The population of the world averages 109 women to every 100 men. Eight-ninths of the sudden deaths are those of males.

Women are gradually winning recognition in China. Twenty years ago you could buy a good sort of a wife for $25. Now the price is $250, and the market has an upward tendency.

It is the custom among the Eskimo for the women to gather the wood, make the fire, and do the cooking. They are also expected to do the washing, while the men are hunting, and to dress the game when brought in.

Gladstone said recently that he was too old to have an opinion on the new woman. His "ideal woman had not altered in the last three score years on ten." There is probably no finer type of the womanly woman than Mrs. Gladstone.

The Empress of Japan is so liberal in her alms-giving that, it is related, if it were not for the care of the chancellor of the exchequer her private allowance would all be given in this direction before the end of the first week of the first quarter.

Beatrice Harraden is visiting in San Francisco, and an Examiner reporter says "she looks like a child, with her slight figure, and her short, brown, curly hair, and her big, brown, astonished eyes—a very good little child, with nice gentle manners and a sweet voice and a wonderful amount of interest in everything she sees."

An Englishman, Mr. Ashby Sterry, is on the side of those who would do away with that time-honored institution—the honeymoon. "The honeymoon," he says, "during which a young couple have none but their own society, till they are absolutely sick of one another, has probably done more to make marriage a failure than anything else. If this is abolished, there is a much better chance for the success of matrimoney than there has ever been before. There seems no reason why persons cannot be married in a quiet way, and after they are married fix upon a house and superintend its furnishing and decoration.

PEOPLE OF NOTE.

Du Maurier is gathering in about $1,000 a month as royalty on plays based on his story of "Trilby."

Joseph Smith, jr., son of the Mormon prophet and one of the chiefs of the church, is a man of sixty-five, with a fine physique and an agreeable voice.

Senator Allison is emphatic in his denial of having a presidential bee buzzing in his bonnet. He will be content to be re-elected to the Senate.

Among the French men of letters who ride the bicycle are Emile Zola, Jules Lemaitre, Jean Richepin, Henri re Regnier, Octave Mirbeau and Arthur Meyer.

John B. Curtis, of Portland, Me., is one of the largest landowners in Nebraska. One of his pastures in that State is eight miles long by five wide, and is fenced in.

Gen. Grant's grandson, Algernon Sartoris, is a youth nearly six feet tall and fair of complexion. He was born in England, but is said to prefer his mother's country to his native land.

Old Whipple, the Maine lumberman, who paid $10,000 for a gold brick, says: "Perhaps if I had read less of Talmage's sermons and more of the crimes going the rounds I should have been a less easy victim."

Old Jules Simon is quoted as saying that the young German Emperor speaks French like a Parisian, whereas the first Napoleon spoke it all his days with an Italian accent, and the third Napoleon with a strong German accent.

The Samoan natives showed their devotion to Robert Louis Stevenson by cutting steps in the rocky mountain up to his grave so that his widow could reach the almost inaccessible spot. The work was accomplished with infinite pains.

Lord Wolseley, whose tenure of the command-in-chief in Ireland will shortly end, has only some five years of active service before him now, since he was born on June 4, 1833, and generals have to go at sixty-seven. He will thus hardly be available for any further post, short of a command in the field.

John C. S. Hancock, of Hancock, Md., who has only his left arm to shoot with, the right having been lost in a carriage accident, has killed this season with his shot gun 209 squirrels, 125 rabbits, 217 partridges, 62 pheasants, 28 wild turkeys and 35 woodcock. Of wild ducks he has shot 23 mallards and 7 redheads.

It is likely that Elizabeth Cady Stanton's new Bible will show clearly that Adam picked the apple himself, and that he sometimes saw snakes.

HINTS TO BASEBALL PLAYERS.

Don't let your pitcher get full too often.

Amiable men make the best players; they are not easily "put out."

Never "sell" a game. Peddling matches is a small business.

A "boy of the period" does not necessarily make a good short stop.

It is better to have one of your nine "out on a foul" than out on a lark.

Men who want an advance pay just before a match are not "good strikers."

No bottles should be allowed on the ground—not even blue bottles for "fly catching."

Players should not indulge in vulgar shouts, lest they be classed with foul bawls.

A small man will last you longer than a big one, for pitcher. "Little pitchers have long (y) ears."

When the umpire decides which is the base for you to take, you may consider it like the first story of your house, because it is the basement.

CARRYING THE PURSE.

A Problem Which Is Seriously Troubling the Fair Sex.

"How and where shall I carry my money?" is an important question to a woman who has had her pockets picked twice within a week. Once her purse was in the chatelaine bag, suspended from her belt, and which she found yawning and empty upon reaching home. "And the clasp to that bag was one I often had to work over to desperation myself," she remarked plaintively. "It bothered me dreadfully when I was in a hurry, but that very fact gave me a sense of security." The second time her pocket—one of those un-get-at-able pockets, too, in the rear region, where its unhappy possessor is forced to sit upon its contents—was ignominiously turned wrong side out. She tried carrying her purse in her hand, and an elderly man, with a benevolent face, stopped her and said: "Pardon me, madam, but I feel constrained to tell you that I have just seen a lady's purse snatched out of her hand and the thief escape with it."

The next time she sallied forth her money was pinned securely inside her dress waist. When she had selected certain purchases she told the clerk she would return soon and pay for them, and proceeded to the ladies' dressing room, where there were eight other women engaged in extricating money from similar places of security and one deftly removing a garter and turning down her shapely hosiery. These methods are pretty safe, but decidedly inconvenient, especially when one has purchases to make at different places. Some women have adopted the separate pocket tied around the waist, under the dress skirt, but this, of course, necessitates raising the skirt to reach the pocket, and not infrequently, by some method best known to themselves, thieves manage to rifle them or remove them altogether. It really seems as if till some as yet untried method of carrying it is devised women must depend more upon good fortune than any better security for the continued possession of the little article whose purloiner is said to steal trash, but which is nevertheless trash of a kind which commends itself strongly and almost universally to poor human nature.—Philadelphia Press.

Many years' experience has taught him that nearly all ailments can be cured or greatly helped. The diseases he treats are Consumption, all Bronchial Affections, Loss of Manhood, Crooked Limbs, Wry Necks, Barrenness, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Syphilis, Eye and Ear Diseases, Skin Diseases, Neuralgia, Bright's Disease, Ulcers and Old Sores of every description, Rheumatism, either acute or chronic, Sick Headache, Epilepsy, Gastritis, Congestion, Canker, Tonsilitis, Deafness, St. Vitus' Dance, Impediment of Speech, Loss of Voice, Stuttering, Cancer of the Stomach, Piles, Jaundice, Constipation, Biliousness, Dysentery, Chronic Diarrhœa, Chills and Fever, Fistula, Bilious Colic, Paralysis, Heart Disease, Intestinal Worms and Liver Complaints.

However, it must be remembered that he will not undertake to treat all cases, but only those which he is positive can be cured or greatly relieved, and will tell you at once which, if either, can be accomplished.

DR. MacTAGGART is the only specialist this side of New York, Philadelphia and Buffalo, who makes an exclusive specialty of treating Chronic Cases and the Diseases of Women. Those who have been suffering for years should call at once and learn whether their ailment can be cured or not. No cases received unless they can be cured or greatly helped.

What Dr. MacTaggart

HAS DONE AND IS DOING.

The Doctor wishes the public to understand that he is not soliciting the ordinary run of cases, but desires just such diseases to treat that other physicians cannot succeed with or at least fail to cure. When you suffer from such consult HIM (consultation is free), have him thoroughly diagnose your case, and then what he tells you can be relied upon as a fact beyond refutation. Some may say, "Why go to Dr. MacTaggart when we have as good doctors here as anywhere?" Yes, so you have in their line of practice, but not in those specialties that Dr. MacTaggart is schooled and practiced in. In support of this unqualified assertion read his testimonials—not only read them, but investigate the truthfulness of them. Where are the physicians who can remove cancers without pain and cure it beyond peradventure? He does it. Where can you find another physician in Pennsylvania who can remove tumors of even 60 pounds weight without the use of the knife, without pain, and without leaving a scar? Dr. MacTaggart does it. What physician can cure fistulas without cutting or causing the least pain or soreness during treatment? Dr. MacTaggart does it successfully. These are golden truths—golden because it proves beyond dispute that the science of medicine in specialties particularly, is advancing with rapid strides far in the lead of the regular practioner. 1-18-1y.

FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1895.

Candidates.

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE,
MORDECAI MILLARD,
CENTRE TOWNSHIP.

Attorney A. G. Potter of Selinsgrove, who received such terrible injuries in a railroad accident last winter, is again able to practice his profession. He has been elected a delegate to the next Republican State Convention, and other honors are being bestowed upon him by his fellow- citizens.

W. E. Housworth Esq., Fish Warden for this section of the State, is making arrangements to bring suit against the coal companies who use the river for their dumping grounds. Unless this is stopped the time is not far distant when there will be no fish in the Susquehanna. At this time the coal dirt is rapidly forming the bed of the river, as far as the East side of Burns' Island. We wish Mr. Housworth the utmost success in his undertaking.—Selinsgrove Tribune.

The open contest for the control of the next Republican State Convention between the adherents of Governor Hastings and United States Senator Quay is attracting the attention of politicians all over the State.

The formal declaration of war by the Governor seemed to have a paralyzing effect upon the Republican managers. In many instances they stood mute, and were unable to tell just "where they were at." Some time will be required for these men to collect their wits, and then the declarations will come as to which king they will serve under.

Wages Still Advancing.

It is hard to keep tab on all the increases in the rates of wages; but the country will not fail to note with particular interest the announcement posted yesterday by the Johnson Steel Company, of Lorain, O., of a voluntary advance of 15 per cent. in certain of its departments, with the additional statement that all of the departments will be given an increase by July 1. It may well be believed that "the mill is rushed with orders, and every branch is running to its full capacity." The best of it is that the activity thus disclosed is no temporary summer spurt, as the New York Times said yesterday:

"The railroads alone need iron and steel enough to keep the manufacturing plants busy for more than a year, but so far demand has been largely for manufacturing and structural purposes."

In short, the iron outlook is aglow with promise; and it is inevitable that the prosperity which has come upon it with a rush will extend to all the network of related industries.—Record.

The Smallest Commonwealth.

IT IS A MILE IN DIAMETER AND HAS A POPULATION OF 55 PERSONS.

The smallest commonwealth of the world is the little republic Tavolara, upon the little island of the same name, situated some seven or eight miles south of the Island of Sardinia. Tavolara is an island about one mile in diameter and inhabited at present by 55 people, men, women and children. In 1836 Karl Albert, then king of Sardinia, bestowed the supremacy over this little isle upon the Bartoleoni family, and for 46 years, "King" Paul I reigned in peace in his domain. He died on May 30, 1882, and shortly before his demise called all his faithful subjects to his bedside and declared it to be his earnest desire that none of his relatives could succeed him as the head of Government in the island, but that he considered it for the best that the good people of Tavolara should govern themselves. After this last wish no candidate for the vacated throne could be found among the family of the deceased, who were used to consider their "King's" wish law, and the little island remained ungoverned for four years. At last, in 1886, the little island was declared a republic. Their constitution gives elective franchise to both men and women; a president is elected to serve six years. None of their officers receive any compensation.

SUPERIOR COURT JUDGES SLATED.

THOSE WHO WILL LIKELY FILL PLACES ON THE BENCH OF THE NEW TRIBUNAL.

The Governor Besieged.

Governor Hastings has approved the Superior Court bill and will soon announce the appointment of the seven judges, six of whom will be Republicans. The other will be a Democrat. The bill goes into effect July 1 and provides that the court shall organize within thirty days thereafter. The court will sit annually at Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Harrisburg, Williamsport and Scranton.

A lively contest is being waged for the new judgeships. The Governor has received upward of fifty applications, some of the candidates being among the most prominent politicians in the State. Although Governor Hastings has given no intimation as to whom he will appoint it may be said with certainty that the appointees will be as follows:

Judge Wyckham, Beaver; J. Hay Brown, Lancaster; E. N. Willard, Scranton; ex-Governor James A. Beaver, Bellefonte; ex-Judge Howard Reeder, Easton; George B. Orlady, Huntingdon, and Henry J. McCarthy, of Philadelphia, the latter a Democrat.

RELIGIOUS GARB BILL.

The Religious Garb bill will be taken up this week by Governor Hastings for final consideration. This measure has excited more interest than any other passed by the recent Legislature. It is advocated by the patriotic societies, and a strong pressure is being brought to bear upon the Governor by these organizations to have the bill become a law. The Governor was at first inclined to favor the proposition, but the opposition to it from the Mennonites and Dunkards is so pronounced that it is practically settled that he will veto it. These people claim that if the bill should become a law it would force their children out of the public schools because of the simple dress which they wear. It is believed that the Governor will take the broad ground that the bill is unconstitutional because it discriminates against certain religious sects.

Th Quay County bill is also in danger of being vetoed. The general objection is that within the next twenty years the coal lands in the territory of Schuylkill and Luzerne counties, out of which it is proposed to create the new county, will be outworked and that the large population will be materially decreased. The Governor's friends also say that the population in the proposed county is made up principally of foreigners, of whom not more than ten per cent. pay taxes. When the mines are abandoned the people will drift to other localities and the burdens of the county government will fall upon the agricultural classes.

General News.

An appeal has been issued to the women of the South for funds with which to build a monument to the mother of General Robert E. Lee. An association formed for the purpose has the matter in charge. It is proposed to erect the monument in the churchyard of Christ Church, Alexandria, Va.

Secretary Hoke Smith, of the Interior Department, has restored to the pay rolls of the Pension Office the name of Miss Elizabeth Key, granddaughter of the author of "The Star Spangled Banner." Miss Key's name was dropped some time ago, and newspaper protests came in from all over the country. As Miss Key is the only support of an old mother, her restoration will meet with general approval.

The town of Hiawatha, Kansas, has adopted a most unselfish plan by which it will celebrate the anniversary of the nation's birthday. It has decided to dispense with the festivities which had been arranged for the Fourth of July this year, and to give the money which would have been spent in the celebration for the relief of a destitute colony of Illinois immigrants and other needy residents of the vicinity.

The impulse lately given to gold mining has infused new life into many deserted towns and abandoned camps in the West. In 1861 the camp of Florence, Idaho, had a population of 30,000 people, and everything that goes to the making of a city. It was a placer camp, and gold was plentiful. But the supply soon became exhausted, and the miners would not take the time and exercise the patience to work quartz. The camp was then quickly deserted. Recently, however, good quartz ledges have been discovered in that locality, and the abandoned town again shows signs of life.

LYCOMING COUNTY CENTENNIAL.

REDUCED RATES TO WILLIAMSPORT, PA., VIA PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

The Lycoming County Centennial Celebration will be held at Williamsport, Pa., July 2, 3, and 4, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Williamsport from East Bloomsburg, Shamokin, Mifflinburg, Renovo, Troy, and intermediate stations at reduced rates.

Tickets will be good to return until July 5 inclusive.

BIG POWDER MILL BLOWN UP.

PEOPLE HURLED FROM BED FOR MILES IN ALL DIRECTIONS.

Shenandoah, Pa., June 23.

The powder mill operated by Roberts, Reese & Beder containing 1400 kegs of the explosive, blew up last night, demolishing the buildings, shook the valley for 25 miles around and caused a loss of $40,000. It is supposed to have been touched off by a firebug.

It was located in the Catawissa Valley, four miles from here. No lives were lost so far as is known. The village of Ringtown, two miles from the scene of the disaster, suffered terribly. The inhabitants were thrown from their beds and some fled from their houses in terror. There is today not an unbroken window glass in the town, and many of the houses are so badly wrecked that they will have to be abandoned until repairs are made. The home of L. W. Krebs, a farmer one mile distant, is almost a complete wreck. Doors and shutters were torn from their fastenings and broken into kindling wood. The plaster fell from the walls, and even the furniture was hurled about in all directions. Half a dozen other homes, also close by the Krebs residence, are badly shattered. Some of the people there were slightly injured when thrown from bed. In Shenandoah, which is four miles from the mill, hundreds of people were awakened by the fearful shock. Many ran out upon the streets, thinking some great catastrophe had occurred.

The powder mill was new, having been put into operation on May 1. It is completely demolished, as are the out buildings at the place.

Mr. Pardoe's Claim.

Ex-County Commissioner Joseph Pardoe, who is now a resident of Bloomsburg, threatens to sue this county to recover about $100, which he paid as street car fare to and from his Northumberland home and the Commissioners' office. He claims that the Act of Assembly allows him expenses in traveling from his home to the office. His son, Howard Pardoe, who is practicing law at Hazleton, will conduct his case.

Mr. Pardoe was the minority member of the Board of Commissioners that preceded Messrs. Zerbe, Cope and Lindner. Shortly after his election he moved from his farm in Chillisquaque township to Northumberland. He patronized the street cars and the steamboats. He is willing to compromise his claim for $14, payment of his fares on Saturday nights and Monday mornings.—Sunbury Democrat.

Another change has taken place in the English Ministry. Lord Rosebery has resigned the Premiership, and Lord Salisbury has accepted it.

An Ordinance to Provide for an Increase of Indebtedness of the Town of Bloomsburg, in order to fund the Present Indebtedness of said Municipality as Evidenced by Outstanding Orders, and a Judgment of Court in an Action for Tort, for Damages Sustained by W. R. Ringrose, for Personal Injuries Received; and also Purchase Real Estate and the Equipment of a Plant to Furnish Light for the said Town, and to Pay the Expenses Incident to the Opening of Jefferson Street and North Street, Ordained to be Opened by Previous Councils, and for Obtaining Consent of the Electors of said Municipality thereto.

WHEREAS, The existing bonded indebtedness of the Town of Bloomsburg amounts to the sum of $37,940, and in addition thereto there is an existing indebtedness for outstanding orders—the sum of $12,500 and for the judgment obtained against the said Town, for personal injuries received by W. R. Ringrose, together with the interest, costs and expenses incident to the litigation concerning the same, amounting to about $7,000—which outstanding orders and judgment are bearing six per cent, interest, and it is desirable to fund the said indebtedness by the substitution of another form of indebtedness bearing a lower rate of interest.

AND WHEREAS, Also the said Town is now at an annual expense approximating $4400 for the furnishing of Lights for its Highways and Streets, and there is demand made for the immediate opening of Jefferson Street and of North Street agreeably to the action of the corporate Authorities of said Town, heretofore had; and it is believed that the interests of the said Town will be the better subserved by the procurement of a plant and the necessary appliances, for the furnishing of light for the Highways of said Town and to be owned by the said Town; and by the immediate opening of the Highways mentioned and previously ordained.

Therefore be it ordained and enacted by the Town Council of the Town of Bloomsburg, and it is hereby ordained and exacted

Sec. 1. That for the purpose of funding the debt of the said municipality as evidenced by the existing and outstanding orders of the said Town, and for the payment of the judgment, interest, costs and expenses incident to the litigation of the claim of W. R. Ringrose against said Town for personal injuries received by him; as well as for the purpose of procuring real estate and the necessary machinery and appliances for the furnishing of the light for the Streets and Highways thereof; and to pay the damages, costs and expenses for the opening of Jefferson Street and North Street is already ordained, that the bonded indebtedness of the said Town of Bloomsburg be increased in the sum of Forty Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars ($40,800).

Sec. 2. That bonds be issued in denominations of $500, $200 and $100 each, with coupons attached, and bearing interest at four and a half per centum, per annum, payable semi-annually, to secure the payment of the indebtedness hereby created, all of which shall be payable within twenty years from the date of issue; which bonds shall be in such form, and be executed, issued and delivered in accordance with, and subject to such regulations and resolutions as the President and Town Council may adopt.

Sec. 3 That an annual tax commencing with the first year after such bonds shall have been issued of at least two mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation of taxable property in said town of Bloomsburg, be hereafter annually levied and collected for the purpose of repaying the said indebtedness and the interest thereon; and that the President of the Town Council is hereby authorized and directed to make and file with the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace of Columbia County, attested by the Secretary of the Town Council, the statement required by law.

Sec. 4. That notice be given agreeably to the provisions of the Act of Assembly of April 20, 1874, and its supplements, by advertisement published in THE COLUMBIAN, "Democratic Sentinel" and "Columbia County Republican," and by twenty printed hand bills, posted in the most public parts of said Town, that an election will be held at the usual places of holding the general and municipal elections in the said Town of Bloomsburg, on Tuesday, the Sixteenth day of July, A. D., 1895, between the hours provided by law for holding of general elections, for the purpose of obtaining consent of the Electors of said Town to such increase of indebtedness.

Sec. 5. That the President of the Town Council shall cause to be prepared and distributed printed tickets labelled on the outside "Increase the Debt," and containing on the inside the words "Debt may be Increased" also the words "For Loan to Fund Outstanding Orders and the W. R. Ringrose judgment; and to pay the Expenses of Plant for Light and of Opening Jefferson and North Sts., Total $40,800;" and he shall also prepare and distribute tickets labelled on the outside "Increase the Debt" and containing on the inside "No Increase of Debt," also the words "For Loan to Fund Outstanding Orders and the W. R. Ringrose Judgment; and to pay the Expenses of Plant for Light, and of Opening Jefferson and North Streets, Total $40,800;" that due notice be given to the Electors of the Town of Bloomsburg in the manner prescribed by the 3rd Section of the Act of 1874 and its supplements, said notice to contain a statement of the last assessed valuation of taxable property in said Town, of the amount of the existing debt, of the amount and percentage of the proposed increase, and the purposes for which the indebtedness is to be increased

Passed and approved May 21st, 1895.

S. C. CREASY, President.

Attest: R. H. RINGLER, Sec. of Town Council.

NOTICE TO ELECTORS.

Notice is hereby given to the qualified Electors of the Town of Bloomsburg that in pursuance of an Ordinance to Provide for an Increase of Indebtedness of the Town of Bloomsburg in order to Fund the Present Indebtedness of said Municipality as Evidenced by outstanding Orders, and a Judgment of Court in an Action for Tort, for Damages sustained by W. R. Ringrose for Personal Injuries Received; and also Purchase Real Estate and the Equipment of a Plant to Furnish Light for the said Town and to pay the Expenses Incident to the Opening of Jefferson Street and North Street, Ordained to be Opened by Previous Councils and for Obtaining Consent of the Electors of said Municipality Thereto.

An election will be held in the several election districts of the Town of Bloomsburg to be held at the places of holding the general and municipal elections in said election districts, on Tuesday, the 16th day of July, 1895 between the hours provided by law, for holding general elections for the purpose of obtaining the consent of the Electors of said Town to such increase of indebtedness.

The money to be obtained from such increase of indebtedness shall be applied to the payment of existing outstanding orders of said Town, and the payment of the W. R. Ringrose Judgment, interest, costs and expenses; and to procure a Plant for the furnishing of light for the streets of said Town, and the necessary appliances therefor; and to pay for the opening of Jefferson and North Streets as ordained by action of previous Councils.

The last assessed valuation of said Town was	$2,239,624
The present bonded debt of said Town, is	37,940
The net existing debt of said Town including outstanding orders and Ringrose Judgment is	19,500
The amount of the proposed increase, including that necessary to fund the debt for outstanding orders and said judgment is	40,800
The percentage of increase, including that necessary to fund the debt for outstanding orders and for said judgment is	.0182

For 1895 and 1896.

It is the best advertising medium in the county. Over 700 books in circulation.

Our agent will call on you in a few days.

TAYLOR DIRECTORY CO.,
21 Scranton, Pa.

WE CREDIT EVERYONE with common sense; improbable stories never find place under our name in these columns. This week's store news is brim full of good things. Note the things we speak of this week:

BLACK DRESS GOODS.

No mistakes to acknowledge. No blunders to correct. They come from the very best mills in America and Europe. They are stylish, seasonable, and in every way splendid fabrics. Wouldn't be on our counters if they were not. We will let you say how much more they are worth. Prices range from 50c. to $1.75.

UNDERWEAR.

We mean muslin underwear just now in particular. All correctly made, well made, and made of good material. We have never sold as much as now. We are out of one kind just now, but only for a day or two; have it coming as fast as we can. Can't be equaled in town for the prices, as the make up is the very best. Some go for 28c., others higher.

PLISSE.

Just new this season. Oh, how lovely. Nothing cooler or more stylish. Just the thing for these hot summer days that are coming. We have it in all kinds of designs. Light and dark back grounds. Some have the waves in the stripe, others in the body. They all go for 15c. the yard.

DUCKS.

There is nothing more stylish or neater looking than duck suits. Every one wants one for this summer. Dark blue back ground, with white stripe is one. Can you imagine anything prettier? Lots of others, especially the linen colored duck. All just the thing at 12½c.

DOTTED SWISS.

These are being shown and are going to be worn more than ever this year. We have them in plain, and also with the flouncing around the bottom, insertion four inches from the flouncing, full skirt length, all different designs, at $1.00, $1.20, $1.40. Children's at less than half of some of these.

SHOES.

Do you know that we are now carrying the most complete line of anyone in town? Why? Because we never do anything by halves. We can show you more value and style for your money than any where else. A full Russia leather tan shoe for $2.25.

The salary of Postmaster Mercer has been increased from $2100 to $2300, to take effect July 1st. The salary is regulated by the amount of business done in the office the preceding year.

Lightning entered the B. & S. station at Benton on Wednesday night on the telegraph wire and destroyed the bottery, and broke the ticker. Fortunately it did not fire the building.

Mr. J. L. Dillon, the extensive florist of this town, and Miss Louise G. Hutchison of Kingston, were married on Wednesday afternoon, at the bride's home, in the presence of a few relatives. Mrs. Dillon has many friends here who will give her a warm welcome to Bloomsburg.

The following letters are advertised June 25, 1895. Sarah Andes, Giovanni Guido, Miss Lizzie Hartman, Willis M. Hatch, Mr. John K. Horner, Raymond M'f'g Co., Miss Stella Sober. Will be sent to the dead letter office July 9, 1895.

JAMES H. MERCER, P. M.

The town has been full of strangers this week, who came to attend the Normal exercises.

Most of this week, Steward Housel has set the tables in the Normal dining room for six hundred people.

Next Thursday is the Glorious Fourth, and a big time is expected in Bloomsburg.

The zoological department of the great Sands & Astley shows contains a marvelous array of seldom seen wild beasts, birds and reptiles.

Thomas Gerity, at one time a well-known politician of Centralia, died there last week Tuesday and was buried on Saturday.

Emanuel Edgar, a former resident of this county, died at Lopez, Sullivan county, on the 14th inst., aged 59 years. He was buried at Dushore. A wife and three children survive him.

The case of John W. Trivelpiece vs. Greenwood township for the loss of a mule that went over an embankment above Geo. Greenly's was settled at Bloomsburg by the township paying him $100, he paying his own costs. The matter had been pending tor more than two years.

The claim that setting hens prefer nests on the ground because of the dampness (which is supposed to assist in hatching) is not supported by experiments. A hen will hatch as many chicks on the top of the dry hay in the barn as she will on the ground. She selects a cool place in summer and a dry one in winter, her nest being where she can be most comfortable and least disturbed.

A valuable consignment of material was received by the Silk Mill on Wednesday morning. It consisted of twenty-four bales and one bag of raw silk from Japan. Its weight was 4630 pounds, and its value nearly $17,000. It came by express. The Silk Mill is running day and night, and is crowded with orders. The head of the mill, Joseph Ratti, thoroughly understands the business, and is ably assisted by his brother, Pompeo, and Mr. Yorks. This is one of the many industries of which Bloomsburg is justly proud.

On Friday night last, Philip Sidler of Catawissa, got on the 8:30 train at the D. L. & W. depot, and when conductor Hoy came through the car in three minutes Sidler was apparently asleep. Hoy shook him three times and asked for his ticket, and the third time Sidler jumped up and seized the conductor by the throat and Hoy knocked him down. Sidler refused to give up his ticket or pay his fare, and was put off the train. All this happened before they reached the Desk factory. Sidler was arrested and brought before Guy Jacoby Esq. on Tuesday, on a charge of entering a car with intention not to pay his fare, and creating a disturbance &c., and after hearing four witnesses the Justice sentenced him to pay a fine of five dollars and costs.

Must Serve Additional Time.

Judge Ermentrout of Reading, handed down an important opinion as to the rights of persons sentenced to pay fines and cost, in addition to undergoing imprisonment, who are not able to do so at the expiration of their terms. Heretofore, they were released by the Prison Inspectors. The court decides that they must stand committed until such fines and costs are paid, or until they are discharged under the insolvency law at the end of three months.

A Notable Amusement Combination.

The old world has been ringing the praises to Sand's & Astley's Enormous Old and New World Railroad Shows which has visited in Europe during its present grand tour around the world. Since its arrival in America the press of the United States is laden with panegyrics and the opinion that it is head and shoulders above all other tented exhibitions seems to be unanimous. The circus department, we are told, presents an unusual number of meritorious acts and the grand double menagerie contains a large number of rare beasts, birds and reptiles. The hippodrome is said to be the most realistic and the curio department unusually attractive. These shows are to be here Monday, July 1st.

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 21, 1895.

Secretary Carlisle is probably the best pleased man in Washington. His friends and enemies alike agree in giving him the credit for the administration victory which has been won in the election of delegates to the Kentucky state democratic convention which meets next week, and he is being overwhelmed with congratulations, in person and by mail and wire. His friends declare that it means his certain return to the Senate and makes him a promising candidate for the Presidential nomination of the party.

This has been an anxious week for the republican brethren. Although every conceivable expedient had been resorted to to prevent the precipitation of a fight over the silver question in the convention of the republican league at Cleveland, Ohio, they have been in a state of dread every hour that the convention was in session lest their plans should miscarry and the fight be started which would spread like wildfire through the entire party.

The republican enemies of Mr. Benjamin Harrison evidently regard him as a formidable candidate for the Presidential nomination, and are beginning to line up to accomplish his defeat. Ex-Pension Commissioner Dudley, of Ind., whose efforts towards carrying that state for Mr. Harrison in 1888 by means of the notorious "blocks of five" system, which afterwards caused him to find Washington a safer place of residence than Indiana, and who became a bitter enemy of Mr. Harrison because that gentleman although willing to accept the benefit of his trickery, declined to associate with him or even to recognize him after he became President, is again posing as a republican leader. And it is no secret in Washington that Dudley's object in again entering politics is to work against Harrison's nomination.

President Cleveland went to Gray Gables on Monday, to remain for the summer; Secretary Lamont has gone on a trip to the northwest; Atty. Gen. Harmon is in Cincinnati straightening up his private business, but the rest of the cabinet are on duty, although it is probable that Secretary Olney and one or two of his colleagues will go away on their vacations in a few days if nothing occurs to prevent.

State department officials regard the story that Great Britain is preparing to forcibly obtain control of the Nicaragua canal as belonging to the class which always become more or less frequent during mid-summer, which is also known as the "silly season." Such a course on the part of Great Britain would be equivalent to a declaration of war against the United States, and few men of common sense could be made to believe that Great Brittain desires a war with the United States.

Secretary Carlisle has completed the regulations under which the $5,000,000 appropriated by the last Congress to pay deferred sugar bounties will be disbursed. Copies of these regulations will be forwarded to the sugar planters and as soon as all requirements have been complied with the money will be paid. It is probable that there will not be enough to pay the full amount intended by Congress. Should that be the case when all the claims are in and tabulated the claims will be scaled down. It will take some months to arrange all these details and Treasury officials do not think they will be completed and the payments made before about the last of the year.

Commissioner Lochren says he has nothing to conceal in connection with the dismissal of one hundred employes of the Pension Bureau, which are to go into effect July 1, and which have created a stir among the friends of those dismissed, because several ex-Union soldiers and Miss Key, a granddaughter of the writer of "The Star Spangled Banner," were on the list. Judge Lochren says of the matter: "In making these selections we took to whom dismissal would not be so great a hardship as it would have been to others in the office, who perhaps did not in some cases stand so high as clerks. In making up the list of those who were to go out we were governed by the desire to keep our best clerks in the office. As to publishing the list, it was on my judgment that it was not given out. And my reason for not doing so was that we did not wish to cast a stigma on any who were thus legislated out of office. It is not against many of these clerks that they were not as efficient as other clerks, and it should not prevent their getting employment elsewhere."

Nervous Exhaustion and Dyspepsia.

"I have been using Hood's Sarsaparilla for some time for nervous exhaustion and dyspepsia, and I find it the greatest medicine that I have ever tried. I believe a few more bottles will effect a complete cure." Charles V. Monk, 1510 French St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Indications of a Big Corn Crop.

The area planted in corn last year was 76,000,000 acres, although the acreage from which the harvest was finally computed was only 62,582,269 acres. The difference represented the area abandoned or diverted to other crops. The average yield per acre last season was only 19.4 bushels; but in the big crop years 1889 and 1891 it was 27 bushels per acre. There is little doubt that the acreage this year will be fully as large as in 1891, when it was over 76,000,000 acres, and produced a crop of 2,060,154,000 bushels; and in view of the increased corn planting in the South, and the probable additions to the acreage by the utilization of area abandoned by other crops, it may equal or surpass that of 1889, when from an area of 78,319,657 acres a harvest of 2,112,892,000 bushels, the largest on record, was secured.

The country would have cause to rejoice in the event of a duplication of that banner year yield. Plentifulness of corn would be an experience that the consumers of the United States have not enjoyed since 1891. It would mean cheaper beef and hog products, and a consequent expansion of the export trade in meats and lard; and it would afford an opportunity which has been lacking during the last year to make a practical test of the effect of the missionary work that has been done in educating European consumers in the use of corn for human food, as it is extensively used nowhere else than in the United States. Fortunately, all the conditions are now favorable for the realization of the hope of a big yield of corn, although the critical period in the development and maturing of the plant has yet to come.—Record.

Deafness cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (cause by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A Great Offer.

The "Twice-a-Week" edition of the New York World (formerly the Weekly) has proved a phenomenal success. It is a Semi-Weekly of six pages, mailed Tuesdays and Fridays; eight columns to the page; forty-eight columns each issue. It gives the news fully half a week ahead of any weekly paper, and, at the same time, retains all the literary, agricultural, miscellany and other features which made the Weekly World so popular. Yet the price is only $1.00 a year. For sample copies address THE WORLD, N. Y.

Arrangements have been made by which we can furnish this paper and the Twice-a-Week New York World all for $1.75 a year. Take advantage of this offer and get your own local paper and the Twice-a-Week World at this special rate. tf.

Waiter! Beefsteak, Ham and Eggs, for One.

"God gave us meat, but the devil sent us cooks," is a trite saying. From bad cooking, fast eating and overeating, comes a whole train of diseases—indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, catarrh of the stomach, headache, dizziness, and the like. God also gave us a brainy man, who compounded the "Golden Medical Discovery," a corrective of all the ills resulting from overeating and bad blood. Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, has furnished in the "Discovery" a great desideratum in America, where everybody are in such a hurry to make money, they have no time to eat, and scarcely any time to live. It invigorates the liver, cleanses the blood and tones up the system.

Delicate diseases of either sex, however induced, speedily and permanently cured. Book of particulars 10 cents in stamps, mailed sealed in plain envelope. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.,

A Minister's Experience With Heart Disease.

Rev. L. W. Showers, Elderton, Pa.: "For many years my greatest enemy has been organic heart disease. From uneasiness about the heart, with palpitation, it had developed into thumping, fluttering, and choking sensations. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart gave instant relief. A few bottles have rid me of almost every symptom of heart disease. It is a wonder-worker." Sold by Wm. S. Rishton. 6-15-1y.

A lot of new judgment exemption notes, with attorney's commission, and waiving everything, just printed at this office. Sold single, or in books of 25 and 50. tf.

Harper's Weekly.

Chancellor Canfield, of the University of Nebraska (President elect of the University of Ohio), has written for Harper's Weekly an article on University Life in the Northwest, which will be published in June. Other important educational articles published in the Weekly during the month that brings to institutions of learning a great share of public attention are: The Centennial Anniversary of the University of North Carolina, by President Winston; The Centennial Anniversary of Union College, by President Raymond; The College for the Deaf at Washington, by N. B. Maury; and A Shipbuilder's Dual Monument (The Wedd Home and School.

TEDIOUS SUFFERING FINDS RELIEF.

HAVERHILL, N. H.—Many physicians have pronounced as incurable, diseases of the skin and blood. Mrs. Hodsdon of this place abandoned the old method, used Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and was cured.

In October, 1890, Mrs. Hodsdon suffered from a diseased ankle bone. She had always been troubled with Salt Rheum which aggravated the diseased limb. Prescriptions of all sorts were used, but with no benefit. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was tried and it drove the poison out of her blood, healed the ulcerous sores, and restored Mrs. Hodsdon to health and strength.

Favorite Remedy cleanses the blood, and strengthens the nerves. In cases of scrofula and salt rheum, it never fails. 2t.

Harper's Bazar.

Out of Town is the title of a beautifully illustrated series of papers to be published in Harper's Bazar, beginning in June. Cold Dishes in Hot Weather is another and a more strictly practical series which will soon begin in the Bazar. It is from the pen of a gifted Spanish-American woman, Madame E. De La Torre Bueno. Among the Fashion features for the first and second weeks of June will be out-door costumes, bicycle and mountain, and beach toilettes in variety; also summer silks and pretty gowns for evening.

Printing in Colors.

The prices of colored printing inks have gone down with everything else, and it costs no more to do printing in colors than it does in black. THE COLUMBIAN office is prepared to print in any of the following colors: Black, orange, deep cherry, brown lake, light blue, ultra marine blue, bronze red, violet, dark red, green, jacqueminot, purple, garnet, peacock blue. Printing in more than one color is done at a slight advance for the additional press work. tf.

Harper's Magazine.

One of the noteworthy features of Harper's Magazine for June is the story of A Frontier Fight, by Gen. G. A. Forsyth, U. S. A., with illustrations by R. F. Zogbaum—a story to arouse enthusiasm in even the most blase of magazine readers. House-Boating in China and Rome in Africa are articles of uncommon interest, and, for that matter, so are The New Czar and The Grand Prix and Other Prizes. Add to these the chapters of two serials, Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc and Hearts Insurgent, and poems and short stories of the highest rank, and still the literary treasures of this Number of the old "new" Magazine are inadequately suggested.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

I suffered terribly from roaring in my head during an attack of catarrh, and became very deaf, used Ely's Cream Balm and in three weeks could hear as well as ever.—A. E. Newman, Garling, Mich.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from the nose. Physicians prescribed without benefit. After using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the disease was cured.—O. A. Cray, Corning, N. Y.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

Stock Certificates.

Corporations desiring stock certificates, are invited to call and see samples of lithograph work at THE COLUMBIAN office. Workmanship and prices are guaranteed to compare favorably with city printing. tf.

Did They Sit Up Late Nights?

"Can I see your father for a few moments before I go, Miss Hendricks?" he asked. "I want to speak to him upon a matter of importance."

"Certainly, Mr. Sampson," replied the girl, with a blush.

After Mr. Sampson had taken his departure, with a happy smile on his face, Miss Hendricks found her way to her father's shoulder, and, stealing one arm about his neck, whispered:

"What did he want, papa?"

"He is agent for a patent gas burner," said the old man, "and I've agreed to give it a trial."—Boston Globe.

For Milady's Fair Face.

There are few women who have not had at some time or another use for a face powder, even though as a rule they eschew anything on that order. A violet powder which can be commended is composed of wheat starch, three pounds; powdered orris, half-pound. Mix together and add attar of lemon, one-eighth of an ounce; attars of bergamot and cloves, each, one-half drachm. For those troublesome blackheads that so disfigure the face that is blessed with the most classical features the following compound works wonders: Take kaolin, four drachms; glycerine, three drachms; acetic acid, two drachms, and oil of lemon, five drops. Apply this every night and after a few days the black specks can be easily pressed out, or most of them will even come out by washing with pumicestone soap.

Carved Leather Cushions.

EMBOSSED and carved leather cushions decorated in colors are laced together with narrow thongs of leather without a stitch being taken in them; these are liked for hall seats, for libraries and for men's rooms.

New Designs in Tea Tables.

Tea tables continue to grow in favor and to multiply in design. The two latest shown are admirable in every sense and provide for the convenience of the hostess as well as for the beauty of her room. One, the larger of the two, is a combination of bamboo frame and fine porcelain shelves, and the other unites a handsome kettle with a stand and portable tray. They are excellent both in form and general style, and despite their moderate cost a great improvement upon the over-dainty trifles that look too frail to support the weight of cups. Hospitality is the virtue supposed to prompt the existence of a table that is ever ready to offer refreshment to a guest, and it can hardly be saying too much to urge the wisdom of sufficient substantiality to suggest security and sufficient size to allow a generous number of cups.

How to Make Egg Cutlets.

A good way to make egg cutlets is to boil three or four eggs for ten minutes, dip them in cold water for a minute or two and strip off the shell; cut off the ends of each egg and divide into four slices, dip each piece in the well-beaten yolk of an egg, then in bread crumbs rather highly seasoned with pepper, salt and a teaspoonful of very finely-minced parsley; fry in boiling butter until brown, serve with potatoes sliced thin and fried to a light brown; garnish with parsley.

How to Preserve the Table Cloth.

THE custom of brushing a tablecloth instead of shaking it as formerly has two good points. It does not scatter the crumbs abroad, but collects them tidily. And it does not crumple the cloth, which was sadly mussed at the old time method of clearing the table.

Are Girls Really So Anxious?

That Was Different.

A story is told of a startling experience of Lady Emmeline Stuart Wortley, in Gorhambury. This English lady was driving along a country road, when a gate was opened for her by a small country lad. She gave him a small coin and a pleasant smile, and said: "I'm sure you are not a Hertfordshire boy, because you are so polite." "Thee'rt a liar, 'cause I be," was the convincing reply.

HINTS AND HELPS.

Schools in the country districts are too far apart, causing much loss of time during inclement seasons. More schools should be established in some districts.

Evergreen hedges protected many herds and flocks during the recent cold spell, serving as wind-brakes. Such hedges are both ornamental and useful, but shelter is better.

Money spent for wood ashes will always be well invested. They are suitable for all classes of soils, do not injure the land or the crops, and supply both lime and potash as plant food.

Good roads will lessen the number of foundered horses, will save time in delivery, lessen the exertion of the stock, and also eventually decrease taxes by being more durable and permanent.

Muck and marl are used as absorbents, being excellent for that purpose. Marl contains a large proportion of mineral matter in an insoluble condition, but which in time is converted into plant food after being applied to the soil.

The plow should be adapted to the land. There are plows that are suitable for hillsides, others for level land, and they are made to turn the furrows narrow or wide. Much depends on the texture of the soil in the selection of a plow.

Heavy soils are always benefited by lime. Lime is slow in its action, and may not show any benefit to the soil for a year or more, but there will arrive a time when good results will be obtained, and the benefit will be lasting and apparent for many reasons.

Do not wait to procure fertilizers, but do so at once. The winter may break up suddenly and give an early spring, at which time the fertilizers should be applied. It may be inconvenient then to wait, and delays may be dangerous. Fertilizers and seeds should be ready before spring opens.

Do not turn the stock on the pasture too soon. Give the grass an opportunity to get a fair start and make growth. The feet of the animals do damage, and sheep graze very close to the ground. The pasture will be all the more serviceable by allowing the grass an opportunity to grow.

Mixed food always gives better results than a single diet. Corn is the staple food for nearly all classes of stock, but corn is deficient in lime, and is not suitable for growing stock unless fed in connection with some other kinds of foods. Mixed food affords a variety, and is consequently more highly relished.

Smoky Chimneys.

Few things will raise the ire of the housewife or kitchen girl quicker than to be obliged to burn green wood, or to endure the evils of a smoky chimney. But the chimney affair should be easily disposed of. Most smoky chimneys are not built to the proper hight, and it is usually the kitchen chimney that fails to give a proper draft to the stove, or discharge the smoke at the top in a satisfactory manner. The revolving patented appliances to be attached to the top of chimneys do not always give satisfaction, and to obtain a proper draught the chimney must often be extended to the level of the ridge of the main building. This renders in most cases a structure of brick quite impracticable, hence resort must be had to a galvanized iron attachment that any tinsmith will furnish. (See cut.) It should set down over one course or layer of bricks. Put it in place some still day, first coating with mortar the sides of brick to be covered by the hood, that a close joint may be had. If not more than two lengths of pipe are added two stays of wire attached to the ridge will prove sufficient; if the distance is greater, use three stays which will hold it securely. In building a house guard against any trouble of this kind by having the chimneys all extend to as near the same hight as possible.—American Agriculturist.

Pure Water.

The use of sand as a filter for purifying water is being practiced in several large cities, and the soil has long been known to filter water, thus removing the solids and retaining them as plant food. Anything that will dissolve in water, and for that reason the well from which is drawn the water for the use of persons and animals should not be near manure heaps or drains. The driven well is preferred by many, as it does not catch the surface water.

Potatoes for Market.

Grow tomatoes in the field upon wire trellises; plant stout posts every 100 feet and stretch a single No. 12 wire forty-six inches from the ground. Every four feet set up a building lath and secure to the wire by a small wire staple. Plant a tomato plant by each lath and train to it by keeping off side shoots and tying with string. Tomatoes grown in this way are two or three weeks earlier, and in some experiments freer from rot than when grown in the common way.

Get Good Prices.

If the farmer does not get good prices for his steers and wethers he should inform himself of the reason. It may be that the animals are not fat, or inferior in quality. But few farmers are willing to admit that their stock is not good, yet every farmer has his choice between pure breeds and scrubs, the decision resting upon him. No farmer can compete in the market with him who raises only the best and feeds with the view of securing the highest prices.

A Russian swindler at Saratov has just been sent to jail for selling tickets to Jupiter to peasants, whom he induced to sell their property to emigrate there, promising them free land and little work. In packing up they left the images of the saints behind, as they expected to meet them face to face in the planet.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

This Wouldn't Be Believed If Read in a Novel.

During the battle of the Wilderness, says a Western exchange, Henry F. Lowpenny, a corporal in the Thirty-second Indiana Volunteers, lost his right arm at the elbow by the explosion of a shell. His cousin, Bradley Jamison, ex-State Chancellor of Missouri, now lives on the scene of the battle, and recently, when his 15-year-old son was bird's-nesting, he found a nest built in a skeleton hand in the fork of a large maple tree. On the hand was a seal ring, and on taking his strange find home the ring was at once recognized as his uncle's. The latter is now dead, but the ring has been sent to his widow, who lives with a married daughter in Seattle, Wash.

Queer Fancies.

Some months ago a man went down to the lake shore to commit suicide and when he began to write a final message to his wife, he could think of nothing to say except that some butter which he had ordered would be found at a certain grocery. His message bears out a certain fact discovered by realists, that in the supreme and soul-terrifying moments of life the most ridiculous and trivial things often come uppermost in the mind. The dying man comments upon the ugly pattern of the wall paper in his room, and the newly married couple is said to show an invariable preference for talking about the weather.

Just the other day, says the Buffalo News, a boy employed in a west-side factory fell four stories down the shaft of a freight elevator. By some interposition of fate or providence, he landed on his feet, after turning over a couple of times, and crawled out of the bottom door with a silly and mortified look on his face. Except for an inward jolting and a few bruises, he was not injured.

The men who had seen him fall rushed to the bottom of the shaft, expecting to find him lying there crushed and lifeless.

But he was on his feet outside the shaft, catching his breath in an excited, nervous giggle, and awkwardly brushing the dust off his clothes.

"Are you hurt?" they asked, taking hold of him.

"N-n-no, I'm all right."

"Did you light on your feet?"

"I don't know. Leave me alone. I'm all right."

In a few minutes he had calmed down, and one of the men asked him, "What did you think of while you were falling?"

"All I remember is that the feather-cleanin' place on the second floor was shut down."

"Is that all?"

"I could see as I went by that there wasn't any one working there. That's every blamed thing I can remember."

He stuck to it. At an awful moment when his past life should have come to him in a flash, he was taking observations of the "feather-cleanin' place."

As They Appear.

Following the lead of St. Paul, Minn., the police of a number of Western cities are being mounted on bicycles. The above realistic sketch shows what may be expected in the future pursuit of law-breakers.

Revenge of the Indians.

"That reminds me of a buffalo," said Augustus Bramedagee, former member of Congress, as he took a packet of cough drops from the train boy. "Whenever I see sugar or candy I think of Indians and buffaloes.

"I suppose you won't guess why. Well, if you ever took a trip on the western part of the Canadian Pacific Railway you would. You travel for hundreds of miles, and all you see in the way of freight are piles of white bones standing by the side of the track awaiting transportation.

"They are bones of buffaloes long since dead, and the Indians collect them from the plains and take them to the track. There is a fellow in St. Louis who pays them something for them, one dollar a ton, I think, delivered at the track side.

"The bones are used in sugar refining. I believe buffalo bones are better than any other kind for that purpose. Of course the redskins sometimes try to ring in other bones, perhaps those of human beings.

"It is a strange thing," said the former member of Congress, as he chewed on a cough drop, "that the noble savage, who owes his extermination to the whites, should be able to get such a poetic revenge. The American people are said to owe many of their troubles to candy and sweet things, and there are those redskins out on the Canadian Pacific Road industriously collecting bones and doing their best to get even by encouraging the production of candy."

Putting on New Gloves.

In putting on new gloves, do so carefully, for their after-wear depends very much on the way they are treated from the very beginning. Never put on gloves when you are in a hurry and just going out; rather choose another time, when your hands are cool and you have ten minutes or so to devote to them. Before beginning operations dust a little powder into each glove, for this will cause them to slip on more easily. Work the fingers well on before putting in the thumb; then work that in slowly, gradually smoothing the kid onto the hand. When the glove is carefully put on pull it well down and button the second button, and any others that there are, with the exception of the first, leaving the first button until the last. If the hands are hot, remove the gloves, and then turn them inside out, pulling them carefully into shape and leaving them in the air for an hour or two before laying them away.

A glove-stretcher will be found of assistance in the preparation of new gloves for wear. It must, however, be used with discretion, since it is quite as annoying to have a glove that is too large as one that is too small. In buying gloves always provide yourself with a spool of sewing silk or linen thread for mending, exactly the color of the gloves.

Result of Practice.

Perhaps, says the Sanitary Plumber, the highest compliment that can be paid a mechanic is to say that he performs difficult work with ease; but it adds that, whatever the work, ease in doing it comes only as a result of long labor that the uninitiated know nothin about. All of which is true and scientific—the deepest practical truth and the highest practical science. The man who thinks habitually when he does not have to think and works habitually when he is not obliged to work is either a genius already or is making himself one as fast as it can be done.

Not a Lover of Discipline.

The Chinese sailor is not a lover of discipline. He prefers perfect freedom, especially when the question of leave is concerned. When Capt. Lang had charge of the Chinese Navy he discovered this weakness, and it gave him a considerable amount of trouble. He found ordinary methods of enforcing regularity utterly useless. Officers and men alike showed a total indifference to his orders where leave of absence was concerned.

Following the example of the Emperor of Germany, he determined on a series of surprise visits, and on one of these occasions he found that many of the officers and men were on shore without leave. Determining to enforce discipline at any cost, he ordered all the delinquents to be placed under arrest when they returned. This was too much for the easy-going Chinaman. That night every man jumped overboard and went home, utterly disgusted with the service.

Abner Welsh Says:

that after suffering for years of a distressing rupture he was COMPLETELY CURED by Dr O'Malley in eight weekly treatments and has discarded his truss for which he has no further use. Mr. Welsh is Superintendent of the Jackson & Woodin Car Works at Berwick, Pa., and his word is worth something to fellow sufferers. He was not detained from his business while under treatment, save the time taken in coming to Wilkes-Barre once a week. This is an entirely new method of treatment. No knife, no operation and no pay unless cured. Hundreds of other testimonials may be seen at my office.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Interesting Items From Various Points in the County, Reported by Our Staff of Correspondents.

EAST BENTON.

The "Glorious Fourth" will be elaborately celebrated at Cambra.

Harvest is rapidly approaching with promising prospects of a heavy crop.

Refreshing and drenching rains have been visiting this locality of late.

James Keefer and wife of Catawissa, visited friends in our neighborhood week before last.

The corn is at present in a thrifty and growing condition and promises a heavy crop.

Children's Day was observed with appropriate exercises at Hamiline last Saturday night.

Several weddings among prominent people took place in the suburbs of the community the past week or two. "Look a little out" for more to follow soon.

The extreme hot weather has caused much prostration bordering on sun stroke lately.

Emandis Bender of Van Camp, was overcome with heat week ago last Wednesday.

Boys, when so extremely hot, better keep a little shady.

We are often admonished to keep cool. But how can one keep cool when so extremely hot?

The silver issue develops more silver tongued orators that we ever dreamed could be in the country.

Judge Krickbaum and wife took a trip to Butler Valley last Wednesday. On Thursday they attended the wedding of their nephew Hiram F. Hillman to a lady who is a Bloomsburg Normal graduate. As Hiram is an editor, Mrs. Hillman no doubt, will become an editress. Well, editors know how to "puff" weddings, but wedding serenaders generally puff cigars.

Extensive preparations are in progress for an old fashioned camp-meeting at Patterson Grove this coming August.

Rheumatic gout is quite prevalent and seems everywhere about.

"Pan cakes" don't blossom yet, but from information received an immense amount of buckwheat will be sown this year.

A young man by name of Goss, living on D. T. Lutes' farm informed me that he rode eight miles recently in twenty-two minutes on his bicycle.

As a summer resort for our city counsins we recommend Cambra, a place of exhilarating atmosphere and salubrious water, also an out of the way town that sets high and dry. No telephone nor railroad connection. Free from collision except on the silver issue.

BENTON.

J. B. McHenry and wife of Bloomsburg, were visiting friends and relatives in this section last week.

Miss Dot Crossley who has been at Wilkes-Barre for the past two months returned home last week.

Silas McHenry, Thos. Brittain and Will Davidson of Cambra transacted business in Benton last Saturday.

There was a large attendance at the festival held here Saturday evening by the base ball club.

Will Masteller of Jamison City visited Benton Saturday evening.

H. O. Harvey made a business drive to Berwick last week and returned home accompanied by Adam Shallas and H. O. Kline.

Harry Housel of Bloomsburg, has a large banana and orange trade in this place and sells at a reasonable price.

Ed. Hartman made a business trip to Bloomsburg last Thursday on his wheel.

Editor Smith and wife returned home Saturday night from a visit to Atlantic City, where he arranged things for the next excursion which will take place the latter part of August. By the present indications more will go from here than last year.

Mr. Creasy of Bloomsburg, spent Sunday here visiting his wife's parents.

The ball team of this place has new suits now, which gives them a beautiful appearance in the field. They played their first game with them on Saturday, and were wiped out again by the Millville boys. Guess they can do better with overalls.

Floyd Vansickle of J. City, was visiting this place Saturday.

Howard Crossley is doing a good business in his meat market. He has a wagon on the road every day which presents a clean appearance, and Howard says times are certainly good in his line.

Myron Edwards of the Bloomsburg Normal spent Sunday at home.

O. E. Sutton is doing a good business in his ice cream parlor, and handles the celebrated Millville cream.

JERSEYTOWN.

C Kreamer made a business trip to Williamsport on Saturday last.

There were quite a number of sales and horse trading made during the past week. Evan Kreamer exchanged his pacing mare for a Kentucky horse. While Dr. Shuman sold his sorrel horse to a party in Mainville, and Charles Carey traded his roan to a party from Milton, on Saturday evening by some means his horse was exchanged for. It is the best to have them locked.

Master Wilbur and Miss Martha Kreamer who had been visiting their Grandparents for the past two weeks, have returned home.

Quite a number of our young people attended children's service at Dutch Hill on Sunday evening.

Mr. D. A. Shultz was seen wending his way toward White Hall on Saturday evening. What does it mean.

Mrs. Augustus Hartline is visiting her daughter at Pittston this week.

Mr. James Ritter drove into town with a lot of new buggies; he says while on his way he sold two. Jim is a hustler.

J. R. Converse and wife spent Sunday with Pine Summit friends.

Elmer Laidacker and James Mordan started on their wheels on Sunday morning for Eaglesmere but changed their minds, and went to Jamison City, and reported having a fine time.

Dr. J. E. Shuman drove to Light Street Tuesday to bring home his new buggy which he purchased of Benny Drake.

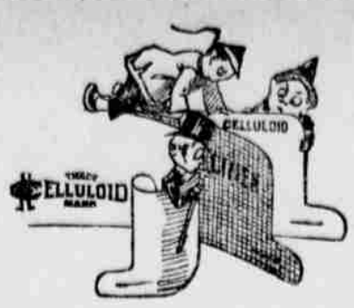
Healthy, happy children are those whose mothers have been, and are, healthy. The best intentioned woman in the world will fall short of her duty to her children if she is worried and wearied with weakness and sickness. Most all irritable women are sick women. Most all melancholy, listless, languid women are sick women. Every woman who will take the trouble to notice, will find that at certain fixed periods she is nervous, cross, irritable and despondent. Any irregularity makes the conditions worse. Even a well woman is less amiable than usual at these times. What can be expected from a sick woman?

When every movement is a dreary drag, when the nerves are all on edge in sympathy with the particular ones affected—when it seems that death were very much preferable to living—what can a woman do for her children then?

It is every woman's duty to be well and healthy. There is no reason why she should be otherwise if only she will take proper care of herself and take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when she needs it.

This celebrated remedy has been used in the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., of which Dr. Pierce is Chief Consulting Physician and specialist, for over 30 years. Thousands of women have been cured by it and hundreds have written grateful letters.

Some of these letters are embodied in a 168 page book, called "Woman and Her Diseases," which will be sent sealed in a plain envelope on receipt of ten cents (stamps) by WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.



"CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS are made by covering a linen collar or cuff with "celluloid," thus making them strong, durable and waterproof. When soiled they can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet cloth. No other waterproof goods are made with this interlining, consequently no other goods can possibly give satisfaction. Do not forget that every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

Insist upon goods so marked and refuse anything else if offered. If your dealer does not keep them you can procure a sample from us direct by enclosing amount and stating size and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR BICYCLISTS.

From Harper's Round Table.

1. A good bicyclist is careful of his roads, therefore when taking a header be careful not to hit the road too hard with your forehead. You might make a dent in the pavement.

2. In falling off your wheel do not fall on both sides at once. Failure to observe this rule will result in dividing you against yourself.

3. Always be courteous. If the trolley-car has the right of way over the track do not dispute with it. A boy in Massachusetts who broke this rule broke his right arm and his cyclometer at the same time.

4. Be cautious. In riding from New York to Brooklyn keep to the driveway. Don't try to wheel over the suspension cable. You might slip and fall into the smoke-stack of a passing ferry-boat.

5. Keep your lamp lit when riding at night. The boy who thought he was safe because he had a parlor-match in his pocket came home with a spoke in his wheel that didn't belong there.

6. Do not be rough with ice-carts and furniture trucks. If you must run into one of them do it as gently and tenderly as if it were a baby-carriage.

7. A merciful rider is merciful to his wheel, so do not force a bicycle beyond the point of its endurance, unless you want to walk back with your wheel on your shoulders.

8. Keep cool. If in the course of a ride you find yourself in a tight place, with a skittish horse to the left and a steep ravine to the right, and a bull dog directly to the fore, take ravine. You'll go into it, anyhow, and if you take it alone without dragging the dog or the horse after you your chances will be improved.

9. Never use spurs on the pneumatic tires of your wheel. The use of spurs ia this manner is likely to leave your bicycle in a winded condition. Spurs are not comfortable, either, in case of a throw.

10. Do not be stubborn with a balky wheel. If the front wheel gets into a rut going east, and the hind wheel in another going west, dismount and argue the matter standing, unless you are tired, and want to lie down by the roadside without making the effort to do so unassisted.

Useful Hints.

A hammock hung according to rule should be six and a quarter feet from the ground at the head and three and three-quarters above the ground at the foot end. The rope that secures the head end should be less than 12 inches and that at the foot should measure four and a half feet. Arranged in this way the lower part will swing freely and the head be kept comfortably by being nearly stationary.

To make a closet door novel and attractive hang on it a good motto in brass or carved wood. A silk or satin banner screen will do if the words embroidered thereon are appropriate.

Lamps are no longer always placed upon the reading table. If wrought iron they can be placed on brackets to the wall. By the aid of a large hook they supply light for a corner over a cozy resting-place.

Rugs to be thoroughly cleansed from dirt should be beaten with that useful little article known as a whipper, which forces from them all particles of dust.

For hands that perspire excessively bathing the hands several times a day with hot infusions of white oak bark is recommended.

The very best way to wash mirrors or window glass is to sponge the surface with alcohol and dust it with whiting, and finally polish it off with a chamois skin or soft cotton cloth. Paint is best removed by alcohol and the friction of a penny, the edge of which is never sharp enough to scratch.

To make a sand bag to use in the place of a hot-water bag: Make a square bag of heavy linen or firm cotton, and fill it with silver sand. A bag of sand retains the heat much longer than water or a brick, and is preferred by some persons. Like a hot-water bag, a sand bag may be fitted into place, so that it is more comfortable than a brick or soapstone. It requires several hours to heat a bag of sand in an oven.

Eggs covered when frying will cook much more evenly.

If you heat your knife you can cut hot bread as smoothly as cold.

Camphor menthol is an excellent inhalant if one is suffering from catarrh.

A little flour dredged over the top of a cake will keep the icing from running.

The white of an egg, with a little sugar and water, is good for a child with an irritable stomach.

Clear, black coffee, diluted with water and containing a little ammonia, will cleanse and restore black clothes.

A large slice of raw potato in the fat when frying doughnuts will prevent the black specks from appearing on their surface.

Daily Excursion Rates.

The Bloomsburg & Sullivan Railroad Company has adopted a new rate for travel over its road, which went into effect last Tuesday. The regular rate one way has been slightly reduced, and the excursion rate has been increased, but excursion tickets are issued daily, instead of only on Saturday as heretofore, and are good for two days. The excursion rates are as follows between Bloomsburg and the points named:

Light Street 25, Orangeville 50, Forks 70, Zaner's 75, Stillwater 85, Benton 1.00, Coles Creek 1.15, Sugarloaf 1.20, Laubach's 1.25, Central 1.45, Jamison City 1.50. Tickets sold on Saturday are good to return on Saturday.

Among the royal visitors to the Sands & Astley shows, when in Europe, was the Empress of Austria and the Emperor William.
